Blockbuster Anti-Aging News For Anyone Over 40: You Can Look and Feel 15 to 20 Years Younger

Dear Friends,

"I feel like I have the energy of a 20-year-old!"

Those are the exact words a patient – someone most likely your age – said to me just a few weeks ago.

But here's the amazing thing:

I hear stories like this all the time.

Amazing stories of transformation. Stories of men and women who used to suffer from sagging energy levels...loss of memory...and a lack of interest in sex and intimacy...

But now these people can't stop talking about how much energy they have...how they've regained their mental "sharpness"...and how their sex lives have radically changed for the better.

I've written this report to tell you exactly how these men and women "took back" their youth and vitality from Father Time...and to tell you just how easy it is for you to do the very same thing.

The Key to Turning Back the Hands of Time

So how does someone go from regularly feeling run-down to suddenly having the energy of a 20-year-old?

Or from lying around the house to playing 18 holes – or more – of golf every day?

The key to "turning back the hands of time" is actually a powerful hormone that your body produces. If produced at the right levels, this hormone can make you look, feel and act younger.

This powerful hormone is called Human Growth Hormone (HGH) – and it's literally the body's Fountain of Youth.

Research has shown that HGH keeps us looking and feeling young – and chock full of limitless energy. There's only one catch...

As we begin to age, our body's own natural production of HGH begins to decline. That's when we begin to lose energy...lose our passion and drive – and find the spring gone from our step.

But now we've discovered a natural way to get your body to restore its level of HGH production to what it was when you were in your 20s and 30s.

Once this happens – and your body is regularly producing HGH at the level of a 25-year-old – you'll immediately begin to feel revitalized. You may also begin to...

- Look and feel years younger
- Say goodbye to those daily, nagging aches and pains
- See a surge in your memory and overall mental "sharpness"
- Leave those eyeglasses in the case as your eyesight improves
- Wake up more refreshed and enjoy a more restful night's sleep
- Find yourself suffering fewer "sick days" as your immune system is improved
- Wonder what happened to that "spare tire" as it disappears
- Find yourself with renewed interest in sex and intimacy...and with increased sexual prowess!

Listen...I know first-hand that many of my patients have been searching fruitlessly for years for a way to reduce the effects of aging on their body.

And now – thanks to years of tireless research and a simple medical discovery – there's a way for you to "turn back the hands of time."

Here's the best part...

Not only is there an easy way to help boost your body's production of HGH – my colleagues and I have an all-natural solution that is safe...effective...and GUARANTEED to help you feel 15 to 20 years younger...within a matter of weeks!

You Don't Have to Accept The Effects of Aging!

No doubt about it – as our HGH levels begin to drop, we begin to look and feel much older. But that's just the start of it. When your body's HGH level begins to drop, you'll also...

- Lose normal sleep patterns and wake up groggy and still tired in the morning
- Lose muscle mass and increase fat – especially around your waist
- See an increased chance of fracturing a bone as bone density decreases
- Become forgetful and lose the mental “edge” you had in your younger years
- Lose interest in sex and intimacy...as well as your ability to perform in the bedroom.

For decades, men and women – just like you and I – have simply accepted these losses as “part of getting older.”

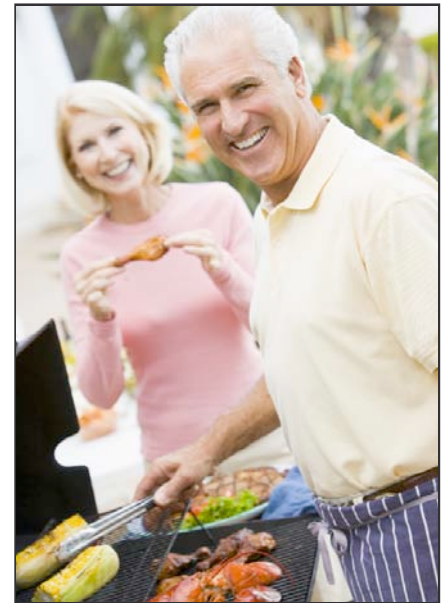

But it doesn't have to be that way anymore.

Take a look at this chart and you'll see just what I mean about your body's decreasing level of HGH production...

The problem is this: your body requires a certain amount of HGH in order to operate. But as you can plainly see, your body actually compromises your ability to operate efficiently by producing less HGH as you get older.

By the time you reach 60 years old, you produce just one-fifth of the HGH that a 20-year-old does.

What Happens When We Stop Producing Enough HGH?

No wonder those youngsters seemingly have endless energy, right?

The key to feeling – and looking – younger has become clear

If we're able to raise our body's HGH production levels, we can revitalize and rejuvenate ourselves.

Recent studies and many publications have shown that raising HGH levels in the body is the key to undoing the effects of aging. We'll look and feel younger – and have the boundless energy of “kids” half our age or more.

So now that we know that the key to turning back the hands of time is to increase our levels of HGH...

How do we do it?

Unfortunately, you can't purchase HGH from your local pharmacy or get it from your doctor. You can't take HGH like you do an aspirin or some other nutritional supplement.

HGH can only be given by injection – by a licensed physician who has prescribed it for a specific medical condition. Not to mention... HGH injections are very expensive.

But that's OK – because we've discovered a safer, less expensive, all-natural way to help your body boost its level of HGH production.

You see...what we've actually figured out how to do is easily “fool” your body into producing HGH at the level it did when you were younger, allowing you to begin feeling as much as 15 to 20 years younger in as little as three of weeks!

This Pea-Sized Gland – Located at the Base of Your Brain – Controls it All!

Some recent studies suggest that your pituitary gland – no matter your age or health – can produce much more HGH if it's properly stimulated.

That's right – your pituitary gland...the small, pea-sized gland that you most likely last thought about in grade school.

Doctors know that the pituitary gland does not lose power as we age – it's just that the normal aging process simply slows the pituitary down so natural levels of HGH diminish as well.

After years of exhaustive study and research, scientists found that a small group of amino acids worked extremely effectively as catalysts, stimulating the pituitary gland to make more HGH.

OK...but how does this work?

Amino acids are basic proteins found naturally in the body and in the foods we eat every day. In fact, amino acids are a very necessary part of our make-up. Without them, children wouldn't grow...we wouldn't have hair on our heads...and we wouldn't be able to digest the foods we eat.

Your pituitary gland controls HGH production

Dr. Daniel Rudman did some groundbreaking research on amino acids. His studies, published in the prestigious New England Journal of Medicine, showed that by giving certain amino acids in the proper quantities to his patients, some key effects of the aging process were undone.<sup>5</sup>

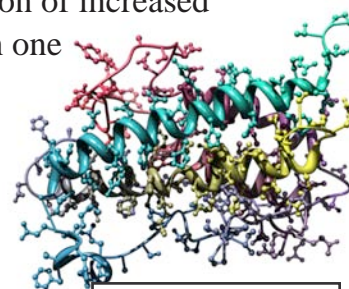

Dr. Rudman's study led others to start looking at this medical phenomenon. Study after study from prestigious institutions concluded that in order to increase the secretion of more HGH from the pituitary gland, three crucial amino acids would be required.

I'll tell you how you can begin adding these powerful amino acids to your daily routine – safely and easily – in just a moment. Plus, I'll also explain how you can begin realizing the anti-aging benefits of these amino acids 100% RISK-FREE. But first...let's take a closer look at...

Amino Acids: The Powerful Building Blocks of HGH Production

The first amino acid found to be necessary for increasing the production of HGH was Glycine. Two different and independent studies found that this amino acid stimulated the production of increased HGH. In one study, taking Glycine at bedtime caused an increase of HGH levels

HGH is the "fountain of youth"... But how can we produce more?

three times the norm.<sup>6</sup>

The second study done by a Japanese research group showed that Glycine raised HGH levels by as much as ten times the norm. Their conclusion was, “the facts demonstrated that glycine is one of the stimulatory agents inducing the pituitary gland to secrete HGH.”<sup>7</sup>

The second amino acid found to significantly affect HGH production in the body is Glutamine. In a 1995 study by Thomas C. Welbourne of Louisiana State University College of Medicine, Welbourne found that a surprisingly small amount of glutamine elevated HGH levels more than four times over that of a placebo. What excited Welbourne even more, though, was his finding that the age of the person he tested was not a factor -- young or old, and that Glutamine worked on the pituitary gland to secrete more HGH.

Last, but by no means least, is the important amino acid, Arginine — perhaps the most important of all of the amino acids. Arginine plays a role in developing muscle mass and decreasing body fat. It also directly affects the body’s ability to deliver oxygen enriched blood smoother and faster throughout the body which increases blood vessel capacity.

What I’m trying to say in doctor jargon, is that Arginine will increase a man’s ability to get and maintain an erection! Arginine delivers the goods!

My associates at Goldshield

Direct, a forward thinking nutraceutical firm, and I worked closely together to develop an optimal combination of these amino acids, along with other important nutrients, to create an easy-to-take, fast acting, HGH booster.

We found that the most effective and best way to mix the amino acids together, and to make them as potent and powerful as possible, was to deliver them in a safe, digestible liquid form. To do that we developed an effervescent beverage we named TimeFIGHTERS® Advanced Anti-Aging Formula. There’s not another HGH product on the market today that compares to TimeFIGHTERS®.

EASY TO USE, FAST-ACTING TimeFIGHTERS® Advanced Anti-Aging Formula

TimeFIGHTERS® combines amino acids Lysine, Glutamine, and Arginine in their purest and most potent form to stimulate your pituitary gland to make more HGH. We've added our own unique ingredients to TimeFIGHTERS®. Broad Bean, a tasty food used worldwide in soups, salads and stews, has also been shown to increase HGH levels in the body by stimulating the pituitary gland.

TimeFIGHTERS® comes in powder form in convenient individual packets. Just mix with a glass of water or your favorite juice and enjoy its effervescent citrus flavor. One packet a day is all you need to stimulate maximum HGH production. The packets travel easily in a pocket, briefcase or a handbag.
