

This Company's Revolutionary Technology Has it Poised to Dominate the Fastest-Growing Sector of a $73 Billion-a-Year Industry

And best of all...shares of this company could net you a gain of up to 745% within 12 months!

Dear investor:

This is the story of a small company that's on the verge of absolutely dominating an exploding sector of a $73 billion per year industry.

Here's why:

This industry - again, one that generated $73 billion in revenue in 2003 in the United States alone - is one of the country's largest.

Just by way of comparison, $73 billion is more than Americans spent on movie tickets, recorded music, theme parks, spectator sports and video games combined in that very same year.

And one piece of that industry is exploding - because the universe of potential customers is growing by the minute.

At last count, there were 206 million potential users. And this particular segment of the industry is projected to produce $5.6 billion in this year alone.

Yet only one company - a small firm poised to make early investors rich - currently has the ability to allow customers to take advantage of a particular niche of the market that all of the "big boys" haven't touched.

And when we speak of these "big boys" - large companies that have done well in this industry - we're not talking about failures. On the contrary, I'm speaking of "Demand for mobile games is growing so fast it could overtake mobile content's current big moneymaker, the $3.5 billion ring tone market."

—BusinessWeek, 5/9/02

this industry - we're not talking about failures. On the contrary, I'm speaking of companies that have produced returns of 264% in 46 months...287% in 25 months... and a $12 billion company that shot up 51.7% in one month after its IPO.

So clearly we're talking about an enormous industry...with a massive potential market...and with a history of delivering spectacular returns for investors in its major players.

All of that makes shares of this tiny company we are buying today - Fortuna Gaming Corp. (symbol: FGAM.OB) all the more attractive. Fortuna's revolutionary technology has the company perfectly positioned to dominate the fastest-growing sector of this $73 billion per year industry...
