The man who called the Market Crash of 2008... helped investors actually make money during that turbulent year... and was editor of the "Letter of the Year" according to Marketwatch.com has just issued an URGENT WARNING:

THE GREAT "OBAMA FINANCIAL COLLAPSE" OF 2014 IS AT HAND

The dominoes have already begun to fall in this shocking financial scenario – with the next trigger set for August 28th...

This catastrophe could prove to be THREE TIMES MORE SEVERE than the Crash of 2008 – so it's vitally important that you prepare yourself now...

Brace yourself.

Over the course of the next few weeks – thanks to the actions of President Barack Obama and the U.S. government – your life will be forever changed.

The dominoes in this unavoidable catastrophe have already begun to fall – and the next significant event will take place on August 28th.

This collapse – The Great Obama Financial Collapse of 2014 – has the potential impact of a category five hurricane...causing catastrophic damage to the investment, savings and retirement accounts of more than 115 million American households.

At this moment – even though the U.S. government and mainstream media won't admit it – we're on the verge of seeing the U.S. debt bubble explode...triggering a financial catastrophe far greater than any Stock Market Crash or financial crisis seen in our lifetime.

What put us on the edge of this cliff?

The conditions that could potentially shake the U.S. economy to its knees are a direct result of the actions and policies taken by the Federal Reserve during the last financial crisis.

The blunders, missteps – and outright criminal activity – of the Federal Reserve... U.S. politicians... and President Obama himself are about to trigger an economic nightmare far greater than anyone ever imagined.

The shocking truth of the matter is, we're already in the early stages of this catastrophe...only no one – until now – has told you about it. That's why it's so important that you prepare yourself today for what will happen next.

In the next few moments, I'll tell you precisely what will cause this historic financial "blindside." I'll tell you how we got here...what the impact will be on your financial well-being...and I'll tell you exactly what you need to know in order to avoid it.

But – I'll also go one step further than that. In fact, I'll show you – using their very own words and figures – the truth behind the information that President Obama and the U.S. Government doesn't want you to see.

The details behind this historic financial event – including what you can do to protect yourself – are the focus of a new research report prepared by Dennis Slothower...the man who not only called the Market Crash of 2008 but also helped investors make money during that horrific year.

This report is called, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014" – and because this disaster will escalate in just a matter of days... I've arranged for you to receive this special report FREE of charge and without obligation.

I'll tell you how you can get your copy in just a moment, but first I need to tell you why...

The U.S. Financial System is on the Verge of a Historic Collapse

No matter if President Obama or Fed Chairman Janet Yellen wants to admit it – or even if they are brazenly hiding this from you – the fact remains that the enormous United States debt bubble is on the verge of a monumental collapse.

This situation has escalated – and the bubble has grown – steadily since 2009. This U.S. debt bubble now poses as great a threat – if not greater – than the Internet and tech bubble of 1999 and 2000...or the housing bubble of 2006 and 2007.

This looming, unavoidable disaster stands to impact a massive number of Americans — and the devastating effects could begin being felt as soon as August 28th.

Imagine your investment accounts losing as much as 50% of their value overnight. Think back to the way you felt back in 2008 as the S&P 500 dropped by almost 50% over a period of several months. Or think about how helpless you felt when you learned that a "Flash Crash" wiped out nearly a year's worth of market gains in the blink of an eye.

Now imagine that same feeling – on a much larger scale – as everyone in your family and in your neighborhood sees their wealth disappear virtually overnight.

The impact will be life-altering.

Your job could be in danger – as thousands of businesses could be forced to close...government services will become virtually non-existent as emergency spending cuts force the government to shut down even the most basic support. Social security checks will stop coming...food stamps will not be issued...triggering a nationwide panic.

Prices of commodities – things you consume every day like milk, bread and gasoline – will soar to levels you once considered unfathomable.

At the same time, you may be denied access to your savings and retirement accounts as some banks may shut down without notice. And government guarantees on savings accounts will be put to a dangerous test.

Those banks that remain in business will slow their investment – and make loans harder to obtain. Your credit cards may become strictly limited — and your credit lines slashed — under "emergency" restrictions...or they may stop working altogether.

Now I realize that as you read this, you may consider such a scenario unlikely – or even impossible to believe – in the America that you've come to know.

But this unavoidable national economic nightmare is very real –and it's about to impact you in a very personal way.

Newspaper about stock market crash

Your friends...your neighbors...your family members – everyone who fails to take the proper steps to prepare themselves right now – are just weeks away from being blindsided by a financial catastrophe greater than any we've seen since 1929.

The Warning Signs are Everywhere

Before I go any further in detailing what's about to happen – let me make one thing perfectly clear.

While millions of Americans will be "blindsided" by this historic Obama Financial Collapse... the truth is – we can see it coming.

If you know where to look – and what voices to pay attention to – the evidence is truly overwhelming.

If you don't think this catastrophe is imminent – or even possible – in the United States you know and love... give me just three minutes to show a small sampling of some of the cracks in the foundation.

⚠ Warning Sign #1: Staggering Debt Levels

There's absolutely no disputing it – our national debt has climbed to a level that is almost beyond comprehension.

Just how bad is the situation?

Back in 1981, when Ronald Reagan was president, the national debt was approaching $1 trillion. President Reagan told congress that such a figure of a trillion dollars was "incomprehensible."

He said that he was trying for weeks to come up with a way to illustrate how big a trillion really is.

By stacking a trillion dollars in one dollar bills, the stack would reach about a quarter of the way to the moon.

Today, our national debt is more than $17 trillion.

If you stacked $17 trillion in one dollar bills, the U.S. debt would now stretch to the moon and back — more than four times!

By stacking a trillion dollars in one dollar bills, the stack would reach about a quarter of the way to the moon.

It is downright criminal how our lawmakers, on both sides of the aisle, have caused our debt to balloon 17 times since 1980.

Up until this point, the buildup of debt has been something that politicians have paid lip service to...but ultimately ignored in favor of their own agendas.

But – as I'll show you in a moment – we've now reached a critical "tipping point" where, thanks to the actions of President Obama pushing us over the cliff... the debt level will soon begin to cause massive problems for nearly every American citizen.

⚠ Warning Sign #2: Americans are Flat Broke

Here's another sign of the complete breakdown that's happening in the U.S. financial system:

47.6 million Americans – roughly 1 in 7 people in this country – are now on food stamps.

That's more than

1 out of 5 households

Source: USDA Food and Nutrition Service

This figure includes more than 1 in 5 children in this country...and the numbers just continue to grow.

1 out of 5 Children on Food Stamps

Graph of Households using Food Stamps

According to the Center for Poverty Research at the University of Kentucky, "About 28% of food stamp households are headed by a person with at least some college training, up from 8% in 1980."

Let me ask you...does a country with a growing number of its citizens – over 15% and rising – unable to afford food sound like one that's enjoying a stable economy?

Or does it sound like a nation on the verge of a historic economic collapse?

⚠ Warning Sign #3: The U.S. Stock Market is Artificially Inflated... for Now

In fact, some of the people who would know best are actually unloading stocks — behind the scenes — in record numbers.

At this moment — corporate insiders are more bearish than they have been in almost 25 years.

Now listen... corporate officers and directors know more about their companies than the rest of us could ever hope to know.

So for them to be the most bearish in 25 years is a huge red flag.

The U.S. government... the Federal Reserve... and primary dealers have pumped up the stock market while artificially keeping oil prices high for three years now.

This has been done in order to recoup the cost of producing oil from oil shale and fracking while becoming more and more independent from imported oil from OPEC and Russia.

But the artificial inflation of the U.S. stock market is about to come to a sudden — and potentially devastating — end.

Don't just take my word for it. Or Dennis Slothower's. Or the word of corporate insiders.

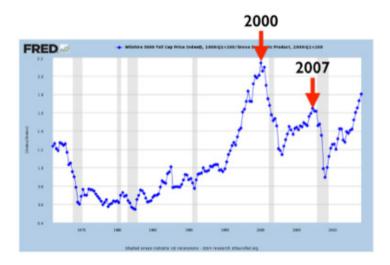

How about the word of Warren Buffett?

Warren Buffett himself has called one stock market indicator, "The best single measure of where valuations stand at any given moment."

This indicator – a simple measure of market cap to GDP – has proven to be astoundingly reliable over the years.

Market Cap to GDP Ratio

These are just a few of the warning signs showing the danger that is everywhere around us.

I don't show you these warning signs in order to frighten you or to convince you that one political party is wrong and another is right.

Instead, I show you these warning signs – which are being blatantly ignored by the mainstream press – in order to help you prepare for...

The Obama Financial Collapse of 2014: How the Dominoes Will Fall

Here – in the simplest terms possible – is what's about to happen over the next few months:

A historic collapse of our financial system will take place — beginning as soon as August 28th — that could disrupt the lives of every American and result in a shocking loss of financial power and stability by our nation as a whole.

It's frightening to think about the potential impact of a stock market collapse...a breakdown in the financial system...and the panic that will ensue.

I've just shown you some of the warning signs that are pointing to this imminent catastrophe – including the staggering level of debt the U.S. has run up.

But the reality of the situation is that President Obama has no ability to stop the coming collapse.

With an escalating situation in Ukraine posing an increasing threat to the U.S...

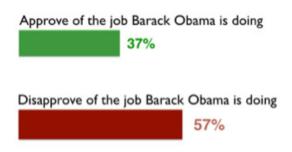

Obama's diplomatic policies failing in Syria...

And civil war in Iraq presenting the very real possibility of U.S. troops being sent into that country again...

It's clear that Obama is in over his head. And that's not just my opinion.

President Obama's approval ratings are at historic lows — with 57% of Americans now disapproving of Obama's handling of foreign policy. But it's not just foreign policy where the President is helpless.

The President's Foreign Policy

Source: Wall Street Journal/NBC News poll 6/18/14

A Wall Street Journal/NBC News survey conducted in June found that more than half of all respondents consider Obama to be competent.

54% of respondents said Barack Obama could not lead the country and "get the job done" for the rest of his term as president.

And the fact that the leader of our government is virtually powerless — as we sit on the brink of a historic financial collapse — makes this situation even more volatile.

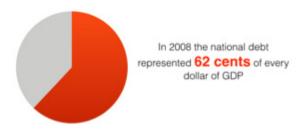

But now I must show you what will happen next as the dominoes begin to fall:

Falling Domino #1 Soaring Debt Has Reached a Tipping Point: Welcome to Third World America

A few moments ago, I showed you how the nation's debt has soared to incomprehensible levels. But I also told you that we'd reached a "tipping point" where this level of debt is about to become destructive.

Here's what I mean:

Just before Barack Obama began his first term — and before the Financial Crisis of 2008, the national debt represented 62 cents of every dollar of this nation's Gross Domestic Product, or GDP.

Simply put, GDP is the total amount of goods and services produced by a country. If you looked at a country like a business, their GDP would be their gross sales.

Last year – for the first time ever – the national debt exceeded the U.S. GDP.

This means that we, as a nation, owe more than we produce.

We are now part of a very "unique" group of countries in the world that have a debt-to-GDP ratio greater than 1. We now rank number 6, right behind Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Japan.

What is even more troubling is not only the size of the debt but how fast it's been growing compared to the economy, and that is what is keeping me up at night.

If the economy grew faster than the rate the government borrowed money... the debt wouldn't be as much of a problem.

But we are now on an unsustainable path. Under the 'leadership' of Barack Obama, our deficit is growing at eight to ten percent per year while the economy is growing at only two to three percent per year. How is this economically sustainable?

We are now at the tipping point... when government debt is greater than its ability to repay that debt.

Falling Domino #2 A Slight Rise in the Interest Rate on Our Debt

Could Change Our Way of Life Virtually Overnight

The next step in this debt disaster is even more terrifying.

That's because the cost of paying the interest on this debt has become astronomical. In order to keep current on our interest payments right now...the cost is more than $415 billion!

This amount — $415 billion — is almost as much as the government spends on Medicare...and it's the same percentage of the U.S. budget that is spent on education.

So we're spending just as much to educate the nation's children as we are simply to maintain our debt at its current level.

But here's the dangerous part:

For the past few years, the Fed has maintained a near-zero interest rate policy...and for good reason: The U.S. currently pays an interest rate of just 2.4% on its $17.6 trillion in debt.

Every 1% rise in interest rates would increase the debt payment by more than $170 billion!

In other words, a simple 1% increase in the interest rate we have to pay on our debt would mean the total cost would climb to more than $600 billion – almost as much as the entire U.S. defense budget!

So far, the Fed has been able to "manage" the cost of this debt by keeping interest rates low.

But the Fed could have to raise interest rates – and soon – in order to help the U.S. economy avoid a crippling inflation that would resemble the 1970s or early '80s.

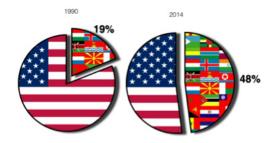

Or – even worse – the decision could be out of the Fed's hands entirely...

Falling Domino #3 Foreign Investors Proclaim U.S. Debt to Be Unsafe and Demand Higher Rates

You see – the United States is no longer in control of the interest rate it pays on its debt.

That's because foreign investors now own a whopping 48% of U.S. debt...up from just 19% back in 1990.

US Debt Held by Foreigners

In other words – we're now at the mercy of China and Japan – the two largest holders of U.S. debt.

If either of those nations demand higher interest rates...the U.S. will be forced to comply. And – as I just showed you...the impact on the U.S. budget will be devastating.

If rates go up by 1% -- where will we get the more than $170 billion needed to finance a 1% rise in rates... the $255 billion needed to finance a 1.5% rise... or the $340 billion needed to finance a 2% increase?

Every 1% rise in interest rates would increase the debt payment by more than $170 billion!

We don't have the money – that's the point. So government spending will have to be cut...in a big way.

American citizens got a small taste of what happens when President Obama shut down government services during the first two weeks of October 2013:

American citizens got a small taste of what happens when the government services were shut down the first two weeks of October 2013:

800,000 federal employees were furloughed 1.3 million were required to work without pay Government contractors such as United Technologies were preparing to lay off 2,000 workers, Lockheed Martin, 3,000.

Shelters for domestic abuse victims across America had trouble paying their bills and closed down.

More than 19,000 low income school children lost access to programs that provides nutritious meals and medical screening.

Even our nation's brave heroes — individuals who fought for our freedom in Vietnam, Korea... even World War II — were denied access to the national memorials erected in honor of their fallen comrades.

Simply put — it was sickening to watch.

But it also shows you — if President Obama and our government is willing to stoop so low as to treat the men and women who have protected our freedom so poorly during a short-term squabble over money...

"The barricades put up around the World War II Memorial in Washington -- have become a symbol held up by both Democrats and Republicans as an example of what's wrong with Washington."

If millions of Americans were impacted by the last, brief government shutdown...

How long would it take before there would be chaos and riots in our cities in the event of more drastic – and more prolonged – spending cuts?

Before looting and gangs roam the streets of our major cities?

For too long the U.S. has been kicking the can down the road, but now the decision is being taken out of their hands.

Dennis Slothower – the man who correctly predicted the Market Crash of 2008 – has prepared an urgent new report that explains precisely how this situation will unfold. It's called, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014" – and I've arranged for you to receive this special report FREE of charge and without obligation.

Falling Domino #4 Inflation Isn't Coming... It's Already Here

This is where the impact of the U.S. government's terrible decisions begins to hit you like a two-by-four to the skull:

Because the government has allowed spending to spiral out of control...because low interest rates and market manipulation have failed to jump-start the stalled economy...and because of repeated threats to raise tax rates...

We're now staring a crippling inflation problem square in the face. In fact – it's already begun. The purchasing power of the U.S. dollar is right now melting like an ice cube on a hot summer day.

"Rising Food Costs Eat into Consumers' Savings"

— Daily Finance, November 10, 2014

"Prices in the U.S. excluding fuel and food increased more than forecast in October as a drop in energy costs failed to filter through to other goods and services."

- Business Week, November 20, 2014

We've already seen gas prices soar in this country – and you know the impact it has on you personally.

Higher gas prices mean it costs more to get to work...fewer trips...and an overall drag on the economy.

This has happened with moderately higher gas prices over the past few years.

The problem with inflation is that it historically has spiraled quickly.

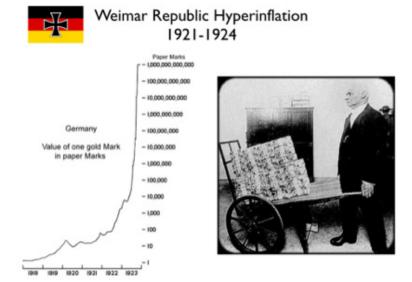

Once people expect inflation, they spend more now because they figure things will cost more later. And once consumer spending heats up...that leads to more inflation. It quickly gets out of control.

But forget about inflation in an academic sense.

Here's what you really need to consider:

What happens when gas prices soar to the point where you can no longer afford to drive regularly? How will you get to work? What impact will this sudden inflation have on your daily life?

How will you afford to pay potentially hundreds of dollars for basics like bread and milk? It happened in Germany – virtually overnight.

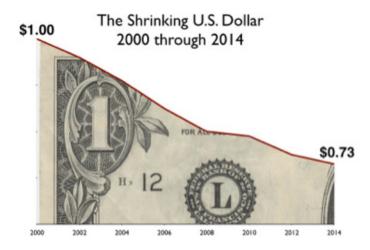

In 1922, a loaf of bread cost 163 marks.

By September 1923, that same loaf of bread cost 1,500,000 marks – and by November 1923 that figure had reached 200,000,000,000 marks.

Now I realize that was in Germany – and it's easy to say, "That could never happen here." But it's already underway.

Right now, it would cost you $1.36 to equal what $1 bought you in 2000. That's an increase of more than 37% -- and it's about to get much worse.

This sudden inflation also means your retirement savings – the money you worked so hard for and diligently stashed away your entire life – will now be worth much, much less.

Any fixed rate assets you own – like bonds – instantly become less valuable. And mortgage rates will skyrocket...forcing thousands of Americans from their homes and preventing thousands more from ever realizing the American dream of owning a home.

The impact of runaway inflation will be greater than any other economic event we've seen in our lifetimes. Greater than a stock market "correction" or even the burst of the housing market bubble.

This nightmare scenario is already underway – and it's about to have an enormous impact on the lives of virtually every American.

That's why it's vitally important that you take action – NOW – to protect your wealth and avoid this danger.

Dennis Slothower's simple roadmap, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014" will serve as your guide – and you can claim your copy FREE of charge by clicking on the link at the end of this message.

But before you do – I need you to consider one last thing...

There's No Way Out for Obama and the Fed

The magnitude of this financial collapse will truly be enormous.

With a likely collapse of the stock market...runaway inflation...the weakening of the U.S. dollar...and government shutdowns due to emergency spending cuts...it's clear that people will look to the Government to take action and solve the crisis.

But this isn't a simple equity bubble...it's not like a collapse in home prices or even a banking meltdown.

We're dealing with a currency crisis – and one on a scale unlike any we've ever seen. The U.S. Government may have been able to bail itself out of the 2008 mortgage crisis by printing more money... but that's not an option here.

The truth is, Obama and the Fed are out of bullets. Even with all the Fed has done to date – the near-zero interest rate policy and the artificial inflation of the stock market – the economy is still stalled.

So what will happen when – in a crisis – the Fed has no way to help solve the problem?

Unfortunately... we're about to find out.

But you can protect yourself – and your family – if you act quickly.

The step-by-step details of what will happen next during this historic financial crisis – as well as the simple steps you need to take in order to protect your wealth – are included in the new research report I'm making available to you today.

This new report – just released by Dennis Slothower – is called "How to Survive the Market Collapse of 2014" and I've arranged to make it available to you today FREE of charge.

How You Can Avoid the Coming Danger – and Protect Your Family's Financial Future

My name is William James...and I've been in the business of evaluating investing ideas for more than twenty years.

Right now is — without question — a time of great urgency in this country. That's why it's critical that you have direct access to Dennis Slothower's regular investment bulletins in order to stay ahead of the coming financial collapse.

I saw first-hand how Dennis Slothower was able to steer investors to safety ahead of the market collapse of 2008...and I've seen how he's been right every step of the way ever since.

It's true that Dennis Slothower and his research staff have been recognized by the mainstream news media for being ahead of the market time and time again.

But the important thing isn't the notoriety or the awards — it's the fact that Dennis Slothower is the one voice you can count on to help you in a turbulent market.

Dennis Slothower has a unique, proven ability to spot danger from far away – and help investors not only steer clear of that danger but also make money along the way.

No Wall Street Bias... No Tolerance for Government B.S.— and No Punches Pulled: Why Dennis Slothower's Research is Invaluable

There's no doubt about it: We are — at this moment — on the verge of a financial crisis of historic proportions.

The events I've spelled out for you in this bulletin will unfold quickly — and many have already begun to take shape.

At a time like this — of such great urgency — you need an independent voice to help you navigate what could be some very choppy waters.

Dennis Slothower is that independent voice.

For more than 30 years, Dennis has been telling it like it is — whether it's exposing the government's latest lie or statistical manipulation...or letting you know how some of Wall Street's most "trusted" firms are absolutely screwing you over.

Dennis is the one market analyst — not on any government or corporate payroll whatsoever — that you can trust for the real story behind the global events that have a direct impact on your wealth.

Listen... Dennis Slothower doesn't have an office in a Manhattan high-rise – and he doesn't have a chauffeured car drive him to and from his office.

He also doesn't spend his time working in a downtown Washington, D.C. office building or having "power lunches" with the very people who are manipulating the stock market and lying to private citizens.

Not even close.

In fact, Dennis Slothower's office is near the slopes of the Wasatch Mountains in Alpine, Utah, population less than 10,000 — about as far away from Wall Street or Washington (literally and figuratively) as you can get.

Instead of looking out his office window at $20 million apartments or a view of the U.S. Capitol...this is his view:

Dennis Slothower's operation is completely independent — he tolerates no outside influence of any kind when making investing decisions.

He's one of the very few investment analysts on the planet willing to show individual investors how the markets are being manipulated.

Dennis has absolutely no fear when it comes to exposing the greed, corruption and outright lies being perpetrated on you by those on Wall Street or in Washington.

And on top of all that... Dennis consistently helps individual investors produce market-beating returns...and protect their wealth in times of crisis.

Right now — to help you prepare for the Great Obama Financial Collapse of 2014 — I've made arrangements for you to access Dennis' amazing research for just pennies a day.

And as you're about to see...you can download his urgent report on the coming disaster FREE of charge immediately.

Besides calling the market collapse of 2008 - and steering investors to safety - Dennis also predicted the three sudden drops in the stock market in 2010...and he's been right every step of the way ever since.

But don't take my word for it.

In 2008 when, according to the independent rating service – Hulbert Financial Digest – 93% of investment newsletters lost money that year... Dennis' was one of just a handful of investment letters that made money in the dismal market of 2008.

And yes... Dennis did steer investors away from danger in the face of the 2008 market collapse...

His performance has been second to none—and he's proven his ability to make money and anticipate large moves in the market time and time again.

"But the fact is that Slothower saw, or at any rate evaded, the Crash of 2008. Still, he's not a permabear and his long term record is very impressive."

Market Watch

"Dennis Slothower's...was one of the very few investment letters to dodge the Crash of 2008 — and, indeed, actually make money in that catastrophic year."

"Slothower stuck to his guns. And in the fall of this turbulent year, he was the top performer by Hulbert Financial Digest count."

Just as he's done before, Dennis is right now warning investors of danger. Only this time, the stakes are much higher.

And – just as he's done before – Dennis is also helping those investors steer clear of the danger ahead. And you can join them.

The Simple Steps You Must Take — Now — Ahead of this Danger

Dennis is – right now – recommending a few simple steps to help you protect and possibly even grow your wealth in the next few years.

But time is of the essence – you must begin taking action immediately.

The details of these steps – including the specific actions to take and the names of the investments Dennis is recommending – are spelled out for you in Dennis' new report, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014."

You can claim your FREE copy of this report by clicking on the link at the end of this message... but for now let me describe these simple steps:

Survival Step #1 How to Protect and Grow Your Wealth as Interest Rates Rise

What will happen the moment interest rates begin to climb?

Not only is it important that you take action to protect yourself when — not IF — interest rates begin moving higher... you also need to consider a handful of outstanding profit opportunities.

Here's what I mean: A handful of companies — including financial firms and online brokers — earn significant income on customer cash balances.

That means — as interest rates have remained near 0% over the past few years — an income stream those companies used to count on has dried up.

But the minute interest rates begin to climb — as we're about to see — those companies will immediately be able to tap back into a revenue stream that in some cases accounted for up to 45% of their business.

No question about it — higher interest rates will mean hard times for homeowners and borrowers.

But those who are well prepared — and who hold customer cash — could see a quick surge in revenue.

Dennis has uncovered three investments in this area that he's recommending that investors consider buying immediately.

You can get the names of these recommendations FREE of charge when you download your copy of Dennis' new report, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014."

Survival Step #2 Soaring Food Costs — and Runaway Inflation — Create Opportunity

Each weekly grocery bill brings more bad news:

Food prices — whether the government wants to admit it or not — have been climbing steadily higher.

According to the USDA's own watered-down figures, the cost to feed a family of four been soaring...with food costs now accounting for nearly one-quarter of household income.

And the price of basics — meat, fish, poultry and eggs — has soared by more than 21% just in the time since President Obama took office. (SLIDE 287)

Meat, Poultry, Fish & Eggs Index

This surge in food prices isn't just confined to the U.S. — it's happening all over the globe. In the period between 2002 and 2014, the Food and Agriculture Organization food price index shot up by 144%.

And given the coming inflation — along with soaring population and supply disruptions — food prices will continue pushing higher for years to come.

But — so long as you're ahead of the trend — this is something you can prepare for... and profit from.

Dennis and his research staff have identified four companies — great businesses that feed the world — poised to soar in the weeks and months ahead thanks to rising prices.

You'll get the names of each company – and the details behind Dennis' recommendation – when you download your FREE copy of "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014."

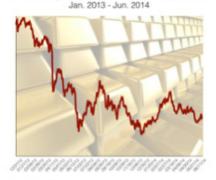

Survival Step #3 You Must Take a Portion of Your Wealth Underground

You now understand — inflation and currency devaluation are very real and immediate dangers to your financial well-being.

So it's important that you take some of your wealth "underground" to protect against this danger.

That means investing in carefully-selected precious metals or "hard money" profit opportunities.

After selling off in 2013, gold prices have been doing nothing so far in 2014 — but the truth is the short-term direction of gold prices doesn't matter to you right now.

What does matter is that investing in precious metals helps offer you some protection in the event of an outright currency collapse...

And there are a number of precious metals opportunities — companies Dennis has investigated thoroughly — that could soar sharply higher in the weeks ahead.

You can get the complete list – and all the details behind each of the steps Dennis is recommending you take now – when you download your FREE copy of Dennis' report, "How to Survive the U.S. Financial Collapse of 2014."
